FRIDAY, : : : : : : AUGUST 23, 1867.

THE staid people, or at least those considered by the rest of the world "the staid people" of Massachusetts, are as prone to mischief and rebellion as though they had been born further South. The throwing overboard of the tea in Boston harbor—an insignificant affair in itself—has been magnified by time, and exaggeration, and eloquent oratory, into vast proportions, and made to take a prominent place in the revolution conducted by WASHINGTON to success. When the immigrants to Texas, finding the Mexican revolutions with SANTA ANNA's dictatorship, intolerable, threw off the yoke, and won their independence, taking the dictator himself prisoner at San Jacinto, there was but a feeble gratulatory response from the "hub of the universe;" and when annexation to the United States was proposed, the State so eloquently apostrophized by DANIEL WEBSTER declared she should die first—that is, go out of the Union—or in other words, secede. These were small affairs and were overlooked as so much gasconading, without any real intention to commit an overt act. The opposition to the action of the Federal Government in carrying on the war of 1812-14, was regarded with a lenient forbearance that has not been extended to more modern resistants. All this, in the history of the past, has not been made prominent in the thousand and one narratives of the stereotyped bibliographists. The pugnacious proclivities of the Puritan discordants were long amused by a distant and wordy war upon Southern institutions—occasionally reduced to practical illustration by some venturous down-easter who in a small way anticipated JOHN BROWN—and the nation, engaged in other matters, and for the most part, trusting to the perpetuity of the Union, which thought undergoing a perpetual undermining and wasting process, looked pretty well on the surface, did not trouble itself to hold the insidious rebels of the loom and spindle to a strict accountability. All sorts of oppugnition to that which the rest of the country acquiesced in, have been born and nourished in New England, and more especially Massachusetts, but they were regarded as the natural overflow of an exuberance of spirits, and not treated as amenable to penalty. All these were minor offenses against the general peace, and were treated as the trifling indiscretions of a spoiled and petted child. The other day, however, a most [illegible] outrage was committed—one calculated to harrow up the soul, and make [illegible] particular hair stand on end." The [illegible] was stated in the Eastern papers.

The Board of Health in St. Louis have commenced seizing all the spoiled and rotten food they can lay hands on. Right!

Intelligence from Denver states that the grasshoppers are approaching that city in swarms, and destroying all vegetation.

The Democrats of Wisconsin are to meet on the 10th of September, and will probably nominate Alexander Mitchell, the railroad king of the State, for Governor.

Frank Newcome shot Charles Goodman Monday night, at Ottawa, New York, in a disreputable house. The wounded man is dying, and the other is still at large.

The New York Constitutional Convention has prohibited the consolidation of railroad companies where the aggregate capital exceeds twenty million dollars.

The New York Herald has a violent attack on Fernando Wood. It calls him a magnificent rascal in white moustache. It is probable the Democrats will nominate him for Mayor.

The Reverend Mark Pladd, representative in the General Assembly from Worcester, committed suicide by hanging himself at Richmond, Vermont, on Saturday last.

It is rumored that Frederick Hudson, late managing editor of the New York Herald, will be agent of the new Associated Press which that journal intends to form next year.

Ex-Senator McElwee, says the Press and Times of Wednesday, has been appointed by Governor Brownlow agent on behalf of the State to settle up with the Tennessee National Bank at Memphis.

Mike Curtin, the gambler who was shot at Ellsworth, Arkansas, Monday night, by a desperado named Davis, died on Tuesday night. The woman, Mollie Logan, who was shot by the same scoundrel, is recovering. Curtin shot Davis through the arm and shoulder after being shot down.

The Commissioner of Patents has made a decision in the case of Watt & Burgess, owners of the patent for making paper from wood and other vegetable matter, who applied for an extension of their patent, which expired yesterday. The decision has not yet been promulgated, but it is said that the extension has been granted, as prayed for.

The gamblers of New York are forming a "Protective Association," to offset the Anti-gambling Association. They are going to endeavor to secure the enactment of a license system similar to that adopted in France, and, in the mean time, to raise a fund to defend all cases in which the Anti-gambling Association is the complainant.

When John Gibson tinted his figures of Venus he no doubt thought himself able to add to his great art, but he had not expected a rival in the saddle colored. The marble group, representing Hiawatha's wooing, by Edmonia Lewis, a young colored sculptress, is now on its way from Rome to Boston, where it will be placed in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The constitution proposed by the late Maryland Convention has appeared. From the old bill of rights has been omitted article 1—"We hold it to be self evident, that all men are created equally free; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; among which are life, liberty, the enjoyment of proceeds their own labor, and the pursuits of happiness." From the constitution the following was struck out: "Every citizen owes paramount allegiance to the constitution and Government of the United States." Several State rights doctrines are very, clearly expressed in the document.

WASHINGTON, August 22.

It is already known that instructions some days ago, were sent to General Sickles that process of the Federal court must not be interfered with by the military. Recent dispatches from the South say notwithstanding, order No. 10 is still in force. These facts unexplained would convey the impression that Sickles is disposed to be contumacious, and to disregard orders of the War Department, but it is positively known here, that the instructions, at his request, are temporarily suspended, in order to hear his views on the subject.

The following telegram was received to-day from Omaha, to Hon. N. G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs: "I sent ten Indian runners yesterday from North Platte, with peace offerings to the hostile tribes of Indians in camp south of the Platte. On the same day Spotted Tail, with nine hundred and fifty friendly Sioux, by the consent of the Commissioner, started on a buffalo hunt. They were much pleased, and promised to meet the Commissioner at North Platte.

INDIAN OUTRAGES NEAR FORT HAYS.

The Kansas Cavalry in Pursuit of Them.

The Cheyennes to be Reinforced and Attack the Pawnees.

ST. LOUIS, August 21.—A dispatch from Fort Hays, the 18th, says the Indians are among us, shooting every man that ventures out of camp. They have taken all the stock in this vicinity, and stopped the work on the railroad beyond here.

About three hundred Kansas cavalry and thirty regulars started to-day for an Indian village on Saline river, with a view of destroying it. The savages are constantly menacing us, and the captain commanding here has barely men enough to hold the fort.

This part of Kansas will have to be abandoned unless more troops are sent to protect us. A squad of Indians captured in the late fight between the Pawnees and Cheyennes at Plum creek, state that it was the intention of the Cheyennes to attack the train at Elm creek, throw it off the track and plunder it. The Cheyennes are expected to return with a larger force soon, and renew the attack.

Levi J. North Probably Fatally Injured

From the Chicago Republican, August 21.]

Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, an accident of a very serious nature befell Mr. Levi J. North, one of the oldest residents of Chicago, but who has of late years lived at Desplaines Station. The gentleman was seen standing in front of Chauncey's saloon, No. 40 Dearborn street, directly opposite to the Tremont House, at the time above stated, and appeared to be slightly under the effect of liquor.

The bar tender in the saloon, which is located in the basement, noticed Mr. North through a window looking upon the street, and heard him shuffling his feet about as if he were dancing. A moment more and he perceived that the gentleman was balancing himself upon one foot at the very edge of the flight of stone steps leading down into the basement. His attempts to regain his equilibrium were vain, and he fell down the stairway backward, rolling against a stone window sill with such great violence that he was at once rendered senseless. The back of his head had struck the sharp edge of the stone, causing a dangerous fracture of the skull. Several persons who had seen the casualty ran to the assistance of the sufferer, who was without delay taken to the drug store of Mr. Frederick A. Bryan, No. 33 Dearborn street, near by the scene of the accident. The wound was there washed, and the hair was clipped so as to facilitate the dressing of the injury. For a time he was totally unconscious, but toward nine o'clock he recovered sufficiently to be able to articulate a few words. Dr. Collins expressed the opinion that his patient cannot long survive the wounds he has received on his head.

Correspondence on the Mexican Mission.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—The following spicy correspondence relative to ex-Minister Campbell's sudden retirement from the Mexican mission is just made public. The first is the following telegram:

"WASHINGTON, June 15, 1867.

"Lewis D. Campbell, New Orleans:

"It is important that the Minister to Mexico should proceed at once. Your resignation will therefore be accepted with thanks for service, and regret for your retirement.

"Communicate by telegraph.

"WILLIAM H. SEWARD."

The following is Campbell's reply by telegraph:

"NEW ORLEANS, June 6, 1867.

"To Secretary Seward:

"In pursuance of telegrams of yesterday, I now formally resign my position as envoy, etc., of the United States to the Republic of Mexico. I should be doing injustice to my own feelings not to avail myself of the occasion to say that my appointment and concasion to say that my appointment and confirmation excited my grateful sensibilities, and that the compliment was more highly appreciated, because when the nomination was made you knew I did not desire it. It is gratifying to me also to know that during my entire care of this moving and somewhat anomalous legation your instructions were always obeyed, and that all my official acts have been approved, some of them highly commended, by the Department of State.

"Permit me to add that it is not fully understood why, upon such record, the Government recently declined to furnish me the slightest facility for going, under its glorious flag, directly to the shores of their struggling sister republic, and has required me to furnish my own conveyance to Havana, now sorely afflicted by a scourging epidemic, and thence proceed on my mission to Vera Cruz, a place of doubtful access under the protection of England or France, both enemies of republicanism, and responsible to some extent for the misfortune of Mexico, and neither a friend of the United States during our late terrible struggle for national existence.

"The primary object of this requirement would seem to be the safety of the fallen Emperor, whose unhallowed ambition led him to bid defiance to a principle long cherished in the hearts of the American people. If the Government to which my whole soul is attached is content with its record, I must be with mine. If you, its highest officers, are willing to receive a resignation forced on me by want of transportation, I am far more happy in returning the commission of which I have been proud, than when I received it.

"I have the honor to remain, very respectfully, your most obedient servant,

"LEWIS D. CAMPBELL."

Lieutenant Commander Alexander Slidell Mackenzie, who was killed early in June last, in a conflict with pirates on the island of Formosa, was a native of New York, and a nephew of Hon. John Slidell, of Louisiana. He was born on the 24th of May, 1842, and entered the navy on the 29th of September, 1855. During the late rebellion he served gallantly in the engagements at Forts Jackson and St. Philip, and in the attack on Fort Sumter and Morris Island, Charleston harbor. At the time of his death he was attached to the flagship Hartford, which he joined at New Orleans in July, 1865, for a cruise in the East Indies. He was small in stature, and rather sparsely made, but brave and generous in disposition, and popular with his classmates.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

It is rumored that Gen. Sickles will be the next victim of the Presidential guillotine, owing to his inteference with the man dates of the Supreme Court in Wilmington, N. C., and ordering his subordinates to give no heed to the order of the United States Attorney General to the United States Marshal to prosecute criminally all parties obstructing the execution of the process of the Supreme Court. Sickles, it is understood, takes the ground that if the Federal Courts are permitted to enforce their decisions in his District, they may very soon declare the reconstruction acts unconstitutional and void. It is said Gen Sickles has written a spicy letter to Gen. Grant on the subject.

The colored men in New York city are organizing a regiment, with a view to being attached to the regular militia organization of the State.

The telegraph says it made a mistake in transmitting Pope's letter to Grant. It should have represented him as saying: "No reconstruction can be at all satisfactory or reliable as to future results, unless these men are permitted to discuss openly and according to their nature, the issues presented."

The thirty toadies in Washington, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, calling themselves members of the bar, who, out of complaisance to Judge Fisher, think they have no rights or professionals that a court is bound to respect, have had their say, and are now ready to be rewarded for their servility by the favor of the "learned Judges" to their cases—if they have any.

The cabin of a negro named Franklin, near Gallatin, Tennessee, was entered a few mornings ago, just before day, and Franklin murdered. His son was also shot, but made his escape with a bad wound in the thigh. Franklin was a carriage driver for Mr. Franklin, of Gallatin. The murderers are unknown, but are supposed to be negroes.

DIED.

On Thursday, August 22d, Mrs. RUTH ANN, relict of the late MONSON T. LEIDY, aged 82 years.

The funeral will take place at ½ o'clock this (Friday) morning, from the residence of John McWilliams, Esq., No. 267 Union street. Carriages will be in attendance. Friends and acquaintances of E. H. Leidy and Mrs Sarah Clarke are respectfully invited.

Near Hookinsville, Ky., on the 18th of July, in the sixty-eighth year of his age, after many years of serious affliction, Mr. LEVI CAYCE, a native of Virginia, for the last twenty years a citizen of Memphis, and only brother of our esteemed old citizen, M. C. Cayce, Esq.

The brother of our old citizens is numbered with the past. The life he was known to have lived will encourage his friends to action. He is now free from suffering and at rest above.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

THE GREAT POPULARITY OF THE

CHARTER OAK COOKING STOVES

HAS led some unprincipled manufacturers to imitate the [illegible] and name. All these imitations are inferior and badly constructed stoves, but so nearly do some of them [illegible] the original in external appearance as to be easily mistaken for it.

I therefore warn the public that I shall promptly prosecute every person, whether dealer or manufacturer, who shall infringe on my rights by imitating, or using the name or design of the

"CHARTER OAK."

The original Patent Hot Air Flue CHARTER OAK COOKING STOVES are made exclusively by the Kane-ister Manufacturing Company, St. Louis. Each stove has the name and date of patent on it. All others are imitations and liable to prosecution.

AN INSTITUTION.—We would direct the attention of our readers in want of a first class boarding house, to the Goodhall House, situated at No. 63 Jefferson street, between Second and Third. This house is in the midst of the business part of the city, and as such, not speaking of the excellence of the table, it should command a generous patronage. A man at this house is made to feel at home, and everything is as clean and neat as the fastidious landady can make it.

THE GRAVEST MALADIES OF YOUTH AND EARLY MANHOOD.—Howard Association Essays on the physiology of the passions, and the errors, abuses and diseases peculiar to the first age of man, with reports on and methods of treatment employed in this Institution. Sent in sealed letter envelopes, free of charge. Address Dr. J. Skillin Houghton, Howard Association, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

CASTALIA.—A palace may be magnificently adorned, but if the soul be not there it must have a hollow sound. The Crystal of Jos Cabel is as elegant as taste and expenditure can make it. The choicest liquors are there, but the great desideratum is the exquisite cuisine. Anyone can have a recherche dinner for a quarter.

Boots, shoes and clothing "less than New York cost," at J. H. Lowenstine & Bros., Clay building.

Owing to the non-completion of our house by the 20th, we are compelled to continue, at No. 213 Main street, until the 1st of September, when we will positively move. We therefore still offer the balance of our stock lower than ever.

M. KRAUS & Co.,
No. 213 Main street.

A REALLY GOOD SCHOOL.—The popular school of Miss Bowers, is no longer to be kept in the basement of the Cumberland Presbyterian church on Court street, as a more commodious place has been secured for it at No. 106 Monroe street, where it will be permanently located, and will be second to no school in Memphis. Its Faculty are competent and enthusiastic in their profession, and their pupils are certain to make rapid advancement.

The time having arrived that planters should be looking round for a safe and substantial house to transact their business, we would call their attention to the card of J. J. Rawlings & Co., in to day's issue, an old house that has been selling cotton for this and adjoining States for the last twenty years. and amidst the revulsions of trade, the breaking of banks, the failure of merchants, and the crash of war, no planter has ever called upon them the second time for his money.

Hooks and eyes, buttons, needles and a variety of other goods on Elsons' cheap table at half price.

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street and 333 Main street, have received New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, Sunday Times, London Art Journal for August, Frank Leslie's Lady's Magazine, Harper's Magazine for September, Old Guard, River Side Magazine for September, and dailies from everywhere.

Boy's hats at thirty-five cents at Elsons'.

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SEVEN.—Old coins occasionally turn up that surprise us with the knowledge that many of them have not been so far spent as to entirely disappear. One of these, bearing the inscription "Philippus, V. D. G., Hispaniar, um Rex, 1737," was presented us by Capt. Eading, of the Salvage Corps, on Monday Court street, where the famished traveler, wayward sojourner, or regular boarder can be furnished with "the best the market affords," at the quickest notice and on the most reasonable rates. We had a cup of coffee and beefsteak there the other evening, and found them not only unexceptionable, but very acceptable.

Calicoes at ten cents at J. H. Lowenstine & Bros., Clay building.

Receipts of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad for Friday, August 22.

Simpson, Holden & Co., 3 bales cotton; Ransom & Co., 1 cask tinne; Purchi, Jabi & Co., 6 half boxes tobacco; George Philler, 1 lot hides; Plummer, Curry & Co., ½ barrel meal; Gates, Wood & Co., 1 bale cotton; Fowlkes & Co., 4 bales cotton; Price & Terry, 13 bales cotton; Dillard, Pinson & Co., 1 bale cotton; Ellis & Co., 2 cars lumber; Edmonds, Pettigrew & Co., 30 packages of tobacco; J. T. Pettit & Co., 2 bales cotton.

Jaconets, swisses, tarletons, and other white goods at half price at Elsons'.

PURE DIFFUSIBLE STIMULANTS.—The firm of A Vaccaro & Co., No. 324 Front street, received, yesterday, a very large lot of the very finest Bourbon whisky ever brought to Memphis. It comprised one hundred barrels, and those who have examined it say that they have never seen an article of the kind superior to it. It is in character and effect wholly unlike the murderous, narcotised stuff that is sometimes sold by unprincipled dealers, and its use will have a beneficial effect on the social life of our city. Merchants or others who wish to get the best of whisky at a reasonable price should get some of this fine lot. A. Vaccaro & Co. keep constantly on hand a large supply of the choicest liquors and wines.

PRESENTATION.—Mr. James Rounds has been, since 1862, the superintendent of the old gas works, and is a very competent and efficient gentleman. He has contracted to build the works of the new gas company, and has consequently severed his connection with the old gas company. The employes of the old company, wishing to show their respect and friendship for the man, met very quietly their arrangements, and yesterday surprised him greatly by presenting him with a magnificent gold watch, worth two hundred and fifty dollars. Such a testimonial of esteem, given to a superintendent by men who have been working with and under him for years, speaks well for both the donors and the recipient of the gift. It shows that in his regard for the friendship of the company, he very quietly met his arrangements, and yesterday surprised him greatly by presenting him with a magnificent gold watch, worth two hundred and fifty dollars. Such a testimonial of esteem, given to a superintendent by men who have been working with and under him for years, speaks well for both the donors and the recipient of the gift. It shows that in his regard for the friendship of the company, he very quietly met has not forgotten to treat working men with the respect and consideration that they deserve, and it shows that the men have esteem and gratitude for a friend whose business relations with them have been severed.

ATTENTION COTTON MERCHANTS.—An important meeting of the cotton merchants of Memphis will be held at the Chamber of Commerce, this afternoon, at four o'clock. A full attendance is requested as the business is urgent and imperative.

AN UNACCOUNTABLE MURDER.

A Negro Killed Last Night.

Three young negro men arrived here on Wednesday last from Little Rock. They had little money and not finding work one of them enlisted. One of the others named Jesse Thomas sat about the streets yesterday and was noticed by persons passing as an evidently needy, quiet stranger. Last night between eight and nine o'clock he sat on a watering trough in the wagon yard of Taylor, McBane & Co. in the rear of Tony's House, on Jefferson street for an hour. He was not observed to have any difficulty or altercation with any one. But suddenly a pistol shot was heard and a number of persons rushed to the spot. As they did so a man who had fired the shot was seen to run up the alley from the place. A police officer, who was among the first persons who got to Jesse Thomas, found him lying on the ground, shot through the heart, and his clothes on fire from the explosion of the pistol in close proximity to his body. Thomas was only able to ejaculate, "Oh, Lord," and almost immediately expired. Why a negro stranger, who had no money, and who was not likely to have made any enemies, was thus assassinated, is is impossible to say. There may have been some slight altercation with some black about the wagon yard; there may have been some old grudge; there may have been an intent to rob, but the affair will perhaps forever remain a mistery.

A BLACK BURGLAR SHOT.

His Accomplice Effects His Escape.

A great many burglaries and attempts at burglary have recently occurred on Adams street, and have greatly alarmed the residents of that part of the city. A tragic circumstance that occurred between two and three o'clock yesterday morning, at the house No. 341 Adams street, is likely to render life and property a little more secure for some time. The house referred to is occupied by Benj. popular P. R. Bryson, Esq., of the firm of McKinney, Bryson & Co., furniture dealers. The house fronting on Adams street has on its west side an alley leading to the rear, and connecting with a passage that separates the front and rear buildings. Being awakened by some noise, Mr. Bryson got up, and, with his Derringer in hand, went out by the front door, and, passing by the alley way round the house, came to the passage way referred to, where he encountered two black men, who had with them a basket full of silver ware, hams and other articles pillaged from different rooms of the house. Mr. Bryson recognized one of the blacks as a fellow who had been a porter at the store of McKinney, Bryson & Co., and had thus been familiar with the premises to be robbed. The black who was with him was unknown. When Mr. Bryson encountered them he said: "Who is there?" and at once the largest of the blacks, the unknown one, advanced as if to assault him; Mr. Bryson fired his Derringer, and the ball striking the big negro on the temple, passeed through the skull and out at the forehead. He dropped at once and never spoke, but lived for nearly an hour. The other burglar rushed out, jumped a fence, and made his escape. From the fact that blood was found for a long distance on his track, it is supposed that he was also touched by the ball. The burglar who died, was yesterday ascertained to be Sandy Williams, who has been a barber.

An inquest was held on the body, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.

Mr. Bryson was, on his own recognizance, discharged.

ITEMITAS.

The death of the well known and most estimable Mrs. Leidy will be regretted by all who knew her.

The one hundred unused cots, mattrasses and blankets at the old hospital building, are to be sold to the county hospital.

The well known and deserving Phil. Smith is about to raffle off a very fine horse at five dollars a chance.

The Greenlaw County Court House building is now up and being roofed. It will be a very fine, and will be a commodious, structure.

Mr. Wright wishes to condemn, through our columns, the brutality of a policeman, No. 119, who beat, with his club, the head and hands of a drunken woman on Beal street.

The indefatigable laborer for a worthy charitable object, John S. Kerr, is out with a revival of the pleasant "Fannie Thurston" entertainments.

According to the new Radical programme, Mr. Bigiow is to get the Judgeship of the Court Law Court away from the Hon. Thomas G. Smith the ablest Judge in West Tennessee.

The excavation at Fort Pickering for the new gas works is proceeding finely. The pipes that were expected have not yet arrived, and John Donovan sacrificed up the river last evening to see where they have been delayed.

Inquests were held by coroner Cotton last evening upon Joe Caldwell and William Sampson, two colored men who died suddenly from eating unwholesome food and trashy fruit.

A wagon was seen night before last near a water melon patch in Chelsea. A dark form was observed manipulating the melons. A dose of shot extracted a howl of despair, and the wagon drove off with a living but tickled load.

It was a mistake in all the papers of this city, saying, recently, that a Metropolitan detective had returned to Memphis with a big rogue, whom he had been sent after. The rogue chloroformed him, and made his escape from the boat at Hickman.

Farmers in Shelby county everywhere assert the necessity for rain. Cotton has been suddenly checked in its growth, and heavy continued rains would now prove ruinous causing the "forms" to fall.

On Thursday night there were burglarious attempts made on Adams street, on Linden street, and on the Pigeon Roost road. The general impression of residents in these localities is that the numerous attempted robberies there have been by idle and vicious blacks.

A gentleman just from Paducah states that there is not half as costly as in Memphis. Eggs and chickens are there sold at from $2 to $2 50 per dozen. Mutton and pork six or eight cents a pound. Veal ten cents a pound. Beef by retail from ten to fifteen cents a pound.

A shopkeeper on Main street objects to the flooding the street with water. Sprinkling may not, he admits, be very objectionable, but making the whole street mud is calculated to generate disease. He says that in Charleston, during sickly seasons, the sprinkling of the streets is rigorously forbidden.

Chelsea, at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Memphis, wanted the bridge at Third street, over the bayou, rebuilt, but the City Fathers remembered that Chelsea had been strongly opposed to union with Memphis, and they declined to do anything for her.

It is noticeable that the planks that were used over seven years ago to put down the Nicolson pavement on Jefferson street, are still sound and in first rate condition. They could be made to last twenty years. The rotting of the blocks began from the top. This is a matter of practical importance.

The alarm of Fire about half past eleven o'clock last night, was occasioned by the burning of a small stable on an alley south of Exchange and between Third and Fourth streets. It was occupied by a number of colored persons. Only the promptitude of the Fire Department prevented the flames from spreading to a contiguous extensive lumber yard.

Complaints are made by residents near the junction of Pigeon Roost road, that several policemen who live in that section of the city among their neighbors, violate the city ordinances by frequently firing off their revolvers within the city limits. In two cases the balls from their pistols entered the residences of respectable citizens and came near hitting persons.

It is reported that La Rue's Carnival Minstrels, a troupe of considerable repute, is shortly to give an entertainment in the Greenlaw Opera House. Memphis is just waking up for the fall trade, and the prospect of a flush time is making everybody feel encouraging, and the favorable that a minstrel troupe, offering pleasant and respectable entertainments, will probably be well patronised.

Messrs. Lowden and Goode deserve great credit for the energy with which they are prosecuting the work of laying down stone pavements, and the excellent manner in which they are doing the work. They have paved all the streets running parallel with and between Poplar and Union from Second to Front Thursday they will pave Court street, where the famished traveler, wayward sojourner, or regular boarder can be furnished with "the best the market affords," at the quickest notice and on the most reasonable rates. We had a cup of coffee and beefsteak there the other evening, and found them not only unexceptionable, but very acceptable.

ILLEGAL PRACTICES.

Metropolitan Police Financiering.

Other cities, about this time, are engaged in suppressing the vice of gaming. An association has been established "to root it out," at New York. In Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis "heavy papers" have been drawn upon the faro dealers, although we do not perceive any advantage they have over some of our "Banks and Bankers" here, but in Memphis, faro and keno tables, and brothels are exempt, that pay a monthly stipend to the Metropolitan Police Commissioner Beaumont, through his subordinates.

We scarcely open a paper that does not have its sensation report of disturbances in King Pharoah's dominions, and the introduction of plagues there. Memphis, however, is exempt from all such exhibitions of diseased and morbid sentimentality. Here Pharoah still holds his court, but applications for his benign consideration are few and far between. The veteran is beginning to assume "the lean and slippered pantaloon." Instead of being an impudent potentate and ruling with supreme power, he is no greater than Pontius Pilate who paid tribute to Cæsar, for he was in the same category with the maitresse de salon a plaisir, and all her nymphs, who are drawn upon to supply Beaumont's exchequer. When the report of "moneys had and received" by the Police Commissioners, is drawn out of the reticent Commissioner of whom the demand is made, there may be some startling developments. If the number of faro dealers and keno callers has diminished, there seems to be as many lorettes in the city as ever, and this source of revenue is sapped with peculiar regularity.

Is not this monstrous? Has the head of the Police Department the power to license these "shabangs?" Has he the legitimate right to draw from any illegitimate practice a revenue, which the laws, State and municipal, deny? No wonder he shrinks from exposure. Make him show his hand.

LEADING COTTON MERCHANTS.—The firm of J. W. A. Jones & Co., No. 300 Front street, is second to no firm of cotton factors in Memphis. They are reliable Southern gentlemen, who understand thoroughly the cotton trade, and their opinions on business matters may be depended on. Whatever they engage to do is certain to be done right. Such merchants are an honor to any city, and cannot be too highly esteemed by their patrons.

Hesperian Balm is the greatest favorite with all the ladies. It prevents and cures sunburn, tan, etc., and makes the complexion charmingly fair and smooth. The delicious fragrance of the Hesperian Balm is truly refreshing. Price, only fifty cents. For sale by all druggists. 2.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, August 23, 1867.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather sultry and cloudy, with prospects of rain. The river is receding steadily, with nine feet scant to Cairo, and eight feet six inches from there to St. Louis. The Ohio is rising slowly at Pittsburg, Cincinnati and Louisville, with three feet six inches in the channel, which is cutting out. The rise will have a tendency to improve navigation. The Arkansas is falling, with three feet scant on the bars to Little Rock. White river is receding, with five feet on the shoalest bars to Augusta.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Mississippi, New Orleans.
" Rowena, White river.
" Lady, Friar's Point.

DEPARTED.

Steamer Mississippi, St. Louis.
" Belle St. Louis, St. Louis.

IN PORT.

Rowena, Gleaner, Lady.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The same sun, yesterday, and the same moon, —only the latter shorn of her glories, as Jupiter was deprived of his satellites—to unobserving eyes which had not prepared themselves for an observation. Only one or two boats in port receiving freight, of which there is a plentiful scarcity.

Sam. Shock has got back, after many a weary travail, from which he was delivered only by getting home. The noise of the salutes was too much for his unaccustomed ears, and he fairly fainted at report of a columbiad, fired off in his especial honor. There were no demonstrations to call out the eloquence of the Mayor of Hopefield, and he only found the ready acquiescence of "certainly" to a passage through the quicksands, storms and contrary winds, to bring him to port, where his [illegible] venture is "recorded."

The Commonwealth is still hard aground at [illegible] which is due from the Ohio, has no clearance at the wharf yet.

Captain Blake, leaves the wharf [illegible] 4:00 o.m. for Cairo and St. Louis.

[illegible]ppi, from New Orleans for St. Louis, [illegible]terday morning. We return thanks [illegible] clerk for a file of New Orleans papers.

[illegible]y of Cairo is the regular Saturday St. Louis packet.

The Belle St. Louis cleared for St. Louis last evening with a splendid passenger and freight trip.

The Norman will ply in the Louisville and White river trade.

The Starlight is reported aground at French Island.

Captain Hollcroft, of the Palestine, the lower Ohio mail packet, reports Flint Island, and Chenoweth's Reach, just below, as the shoalest and most difficult points of navigation.

Alf. Cutting has gone up to St. Louis, on that prestigatory illusion, played off by the immaculate "Sam," of the Republican. He is a boat builder and no mistake, but the 375 fellows will want boats which we apprehend our friend "Alf" will not be able to secure, but which if he do, the boat will be there, ready for equipment.

The New Albany Ledger says: Frank Smith and Arthur Field, are to have the clerk's office on Captain Montgomery's new boat, and that Lem W. Tyre and Simon Caye have each purchased a sixteenth interest in the steamer and will have charge of her engines.

The Louisville Courier says: Evansville has a "Phantom" in the Tennessee river trade, which we think will not long be able to make even a shadow in that line.

There must certainly be an improvement in the retail trade here, and perhaps in heavier transactions. We are led to think so from the crowded tables of the Worsham House, at which we see many strangers seated. None can ever enjoy the hospitality of the Worsham, without expecting to here the sweet refrain of "Home, Sweet Home." We say to our river friends, oh, river!

The negotiations, says the St. Louis Republican, that have been pending for some days between the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company and Captain H. M. Symmes, for the steamer Mollie Able, were finally closed yesterday, and the steamer transferred to Captain Symmes, he paying $28,000 for the boat. Messrs. Dan. and Bart. Able are interested with Captain Symmes. The Mollie Able will be lengthened and widened in pretty much the same style as the Lizzie Gill.

The Rowena, Captain John Davis, arrived from White river last evening, with a splendid passenger trip and a full list of orders. She is the regular Saturday White river mail packet, and is receiving at the foot of Court street for a return trip. Half fare tickets to the tournament at Augusta, which commences on the third of next month, can be had on the Rowena and the Commercial.

The St. Louis Democrat of Wednesday says business is much greater than it was expected to be at this time. Tonnage at St. Louis continues greatly in excess. The river is still falling, with eight or nine feet to Cairo. No change in the Illinois. The upper Mississippi and the Missouri continue on the downward tide, and on those streams there is really a lively commerce going on. The river at Quincy packets, Jasper and Johnson left together again last evening. As usual there was a large number of spectators, and some excitement. The boats had fine passenger trips, comprising, no doubt, a large proportion of dead heads.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Wednesday says:

The river has risen at this point about eight inches in twenty-four hours. Very heavy rains have fallen in the past two days, and it would not be surprising if we had a rise of several feet in the Ohio. Heavy rains are reported at the head waters of the Monongahela and Alleghany, and both these rivers are rising. The Pittsburg Gazette says: There has evidently been heavy rains at the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. An Oil City telegram reported twenty-four inches in the channel at that point yesterday forenoon; while in regard to the Monongahela there was a rumor that Cheat River, which flows into the former, had risen fifteen feet.

Captain Hugh Campbell and Mr. George O. Hart, of the St. Charles, arrived yesterday from the East, en route for Louisville.

There is about four feet water on Rising Sun, with this rise.

Captain Harris, formerly of Natchez, and now engaged in working a silver mine in Mexico, is now in the city.

Captain Allen Brown is rebuilding the steamer W. P. Curtis, and we understand will be steamboating again shortly.

The Sam J. Hale dropped down to the wharf yesterday evening, and will commence receiving this morning for Memphis.

The Minneola left with all the freight she could carry.

A severe storm prevailed along the upper Ohio on Monday night. The Madison and Cincinnati packet, the C. T. Dumont, was caught in the storm at Warsaw. It raked her upper works, carrying away her smoke stacks clear down to the boiler deck, unroofing the texas and a portion of the cabin, and demolishing the pilot house, the pilot escaping unscathed. It was a fearful scene for a brief space, but luckily no lives were lost. The Ella Faber was also caught in the storm at New Albany and had her chimneys blown down.

There are three and a half feet of water reported in the lower Ohio, with the channel cutting out, and a slight rise, which will have a tendency to improve navigation in the Ohio.

The Little Miami, Ohio and Mississippi, Indianapolis and Cincinnati, and Baltimore and Ohio railroad wharf-boat, being constructed by Mr. W. G. McCoy, and to be stationed near the Little Miami railroad depot, will be three hundred feet long and eighty feet wide. The design is to make the depot and this monster wharf-boat by a railway, and, by means of a stationary engine, to lower and raise freight cars to and from the boat to be loaded and unloaded.

Mr. John Arthur, late river reporter of the Cincinnati Gazette, lately received a letter from the War Department, signed U. S. Grant, Secretary of War ad interim, notifying him of the appointment as Second Lieutenant in the Second United States cavalry. The numerous friends of Lieutenant Arthur will be glad to hear of his good fortune.

The Evansville Journal, of Tuesday, says: The Pink Varbie passed down yesterday morning with a "shirt tail full" of freight. She was too modest to whistle or even ring her bell as she came in, and the wharfmaster only discovered her presence by accident. If the merchants of Louisville can't do any better than that for her Tennessee river packets, they had better sell out. The officers of the Phantom sought out a new channel at Shawneestown. They ran out diagonally from the wharfboat, to the right of the middle dry bar and up the Kentucky shore, finding three feet large. There is but thirty inches on the other side.

Spirit Island, a romantic landmark in the Mississippi, near St. Anthony, lost half of its territory by the late strong current of the recent freshets.

We are on the qui vive for lively times this fall in the way of competition and quick time. We want to see the race between the Ruth and Richmond repeated as an early day.—[Vicksburg Times.

We can assure the Times, and all admirers of the Richmond, that when she makes her debut on the Mississippi this fall, she will be able to clean out the Ruth or any packet that runs to St. Louis. Her broken cylender has been replaced, and other slight repairs made in her machinery which will make her two miles an hour faster than when she first came out. We have a few more tiles to back her with; while the river News Agency has on hand some surplus cash, a few old bills and old papers which we are willing to wager on the speed of the Richmond.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGILSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleansed, grease and greasy stains are effectually removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels with the ease of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin or the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, an article unknown to any part of the world. It has become extensively in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the north, and even traffic will extend over the Yankee States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. F. McGILSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found at any respectable family grocery or drug store. The proprietor is now erecting machinery which shall keep pace with the rapidly extending demand for its use.
